Acupuncture and Lifewave Patches

Most of us think of our body as solid matter when actually our bodies are 99.9% energy - we are energetic beings! Everything that we do, everything that we bring into our body is energy. It is our job to keep the energy flowing and tell all that energy where to go.

Just like water, if there is a block or a clog in the system everything is working hard trying to fix it. But what about the other side of the clog? Very little water or no water at all is coming through to nourish and feed the rest of the system and it begins to struggle.

This is how our body works in terms of energy. When energy is blocked your body is trying to fix that block and it's resources start to become depleted. Once the block is cleared, the energy flows and your body starts to repair and return to balance. Free flowing energy keeps us healthy, vibrant, alive and thriving.

What is the quickest way to do this? That is where acupressure points and the big meridians running through our body come in.

Every Lifewave patch has specific acupressure points they work best with. When you place a patch on a specific point, it is the fastest communication path for activating the body's own remedies. And, because there is no drug or supplements involved, LifeWave patches go to work the moment you put a patch on your skin.

Let's use our X39 stem cell activation patches as an example. The moment you place an X39 patch on one of your body's meridians, such as the back of the neck, your body's own light energy activates the materials in the patch which signals the body to increase production of GHK copper peptides which has been proven to increase stem cell activity and reset your stem cells to a younger, healthier state.

All of this happens from simply placing a small patch on one of our body's acupressure points!

Continuing with our water example, what if a small patch were the simple solution to clear the blocks in our body that we can't see? Lifewave patches are a natural, non-invasive, non-transdermal and uses our own light and energy as its healing source.

Wear your patch for 12 hours on and then remove for 12 hours to repair and rejuvenate, then put a new patch on and repeat. Throw away the used patch or put it on your family pet! You can wear more than one patch at a time. One last thing - remember to drink plenty of water and stay hydrated.

Lifewave patches work with our bodies - it's that simple and that complex!
